Mission Meeting Notes

Kigali Field Mission — May 4-9, 2026 | Consultant: Yoan Raih

INTERNAL — Not for external circulation

BNR — Strategy Directorate

Date	2026-05-04
Time	09:00-10:30
Axis	A
Counterpart attendees	Edward Gasore (Director, Strategy Directorate) Samuel Ruzindana (Manager, Strategy Directorate) Representative from Finance Directorate (name not recorded)
Mission team	Yoan Raih (Consultant) Alice Rullier (AFD) Marilou Rouja-Vandenbrouck (Expertise France)

Key Points

- BNR's sustainability agenda is fragmented: many initiatives exist across directorates but no overarching coordination structure is operational. The Sustainability Steering Committee has not been activated despite being formally established.
- BNR explicitly requested AFD support for a corporate-level diagnostic — inventory all existing sustainability initiatives and structure them into a coherent strategy. The Haurus Report (Green PFM Phase 1) is the methodological baseline and should be retrieved before any follow-up.
- The July mid-term strategy review is a key timing window: BNR sees it as an opportunity to restructure its sustainability governance. The exact milestone (launch vs. conclusion) needs to be clarified.
- BNR is co-chair of the NGFS Adaptation Workstream — a significant international position with delivery expectations. EAC-level sustainability criteria harmonisation may constrain what BNR can do unilaterally and should be mapped before designing TA.
- BNR strongly prefers IBFI (Banque de France training institute) capacity building over generic programmes like GARP, and has explicitly expressed interest in peer exchange with Banque de France on its NZCB strategy design.

Open Questions

- Does the July milestone mark the launch or the conclusion of the mid-term strategy review?
- What has been harmonised at the EAC level on sustainability criteria, and does this constrain BNR's flexibility?
- Can the Haurus Report (Phase 1 corporate diagnostic) be retrieved before any follow-up proposal?
- What would it take to restart the Sustainability Report that is currently on hold?
